DORMIE NETWORK

ONE MEMBERSHIP. ONE NETWORK. UNMATCHED.

Showcasing Texas Hill Country just a half hour from downtown.

Truly a course interesting yet friendly enough to play every day, Briggs Ranch is the epitome of pure understated Texas. Covering more than 260 acres, this is the Southern-most American course with bent grass greens. Bring your pressed and starched blue jeans.

Architect: Tom Fazio

Year acquired: 2017

Tees, fairways, and rough: Zoysia

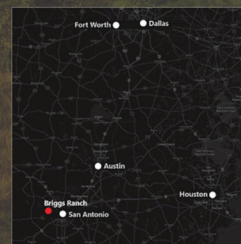

Greens: Bent grass

Specs: 18-hole course measures up to 7,247 yards with a rating of 75.7 and a slope of 139

Onsite lodging: 24 beds across six casitas

#16 in Texas – Golf Digest – 2019

4th Best New Course – Golf Digest – 2002

Centrally located a million miles from ordinary.

Truly off-grid in the Nebraska countryside, the first Dormie Network club spans 300+ acres of pure golf. You'll be surprised by this club, found down a dirt road and surrounded by cornfields and prairie. The 18th green features a drive-through silo along the South Table Creek and historic Arbor Day Farm is just a short hike away.

Architect: Arnold Palmer

Year built: 2002

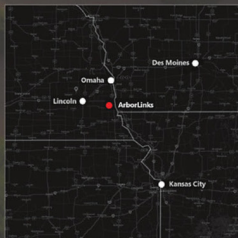

Year acquired: 2015

Greens and fairways: Bent grass

Specs: 18-hole link-style course with a par of 72, length of 7,190 yards, and a slope of 143

Onsite lodging: 40 beds across 10 cottages

#8 Best Course in Nebraska – Golf Digest – 2019

You've never seen the Blue Ridge Mountains quite like this.

Dramatic elevation changes of 50 – 70 feet are just part of the challenge of this visually stunning locale. A shot-maker's course, Ballyhack features 150-yard fairways, gouged-out bunkers, and rugged terrain. Don't forget to greet the family of African Boer goats, who live near the 14th green.

Architect: Lester George

Year built: 2009

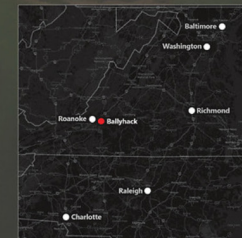

Year acquired: 2016

Greens and fairways: Bent grass

Specs: 18-hole links-style par 72 course measures up to 7,294 yards with a rating of 76.1 and a slope of 155

Onsite lodging: 28 beds across seven cottages

#6 Best Private Club in State of Virginia – Golf Digest – 2019

HIDDEN CREEK

Showcasing the best of the Jersey Shore.

Don't be fooled by the wide-open first hole—this one gets more challenging as you go. Covering 750 acres of aged woodlands, Hidden Creek is a colorful walk in the woods blanketed in the deafening silence of a course that feels completely your own.

Architect: Coore & Crenshaw

Year built: 2002

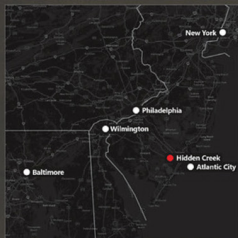

Year acquired: 2019

Greens and fairways: Bent grass

Specs: 18-hole course with a par of 71, length of 7,023 yards, and a slope of 143

Onsite lodging: 8 bedrooms (2 beds each) in the Lodge, with two great rooms. 36 additional bedrooms (48 additional beds) planned for 2021

#17 Best Course in New Jersey – Golf Digest – 2019

A true test of tenacity.

Are you up to the challenge? Covering 418 acres and holding more than 500 million gallons of water, this course carved from an abandoned coal mine culminates in The Gauntlet: four of the most difficult holes found anywhere in golf.

Architect: Tom Fazio

Year built: 1998

Year acquired: 2018

Tees, fairways, and greens: Bent grass

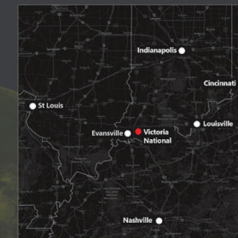

Specs: 18-hole course measures up to 7,209 yards with a rating of 77 and a slope of 148
